'Will focus on improving risk management for a healthy corporate book'

With integration sailing smoothly, Bank of Baroda (BoB) may get the benefit of scale in its corporate loan book. For this, it has to tone up its risk management to avoid higher stress at a later date. BoB's new Managing Director and Chief Executive SANJIV CHADHA tells Abhijit Lele and Harshini Karthik that while the bank has a comfortable capital base to grow, he would prefer to visit the market than go to the government for additional capital. Edited excerpts:

What's your assessment of the business environment at this point in time? There's a fair bit of positives that there are. First of all, the merger process, that has been on for some time now, has been pursued in a non-disruptive manner. A lot of critical things have been taken care of. All corporate customers, which were previously with Bank of Maharashtra and Bank of India, are now on the same platform. The merger is behind us as far as the corporate book is concerned. And the overall landscape is also favourable, and under the present circumstances, quite a few banks have decided that retail is the place to be in.

So, would you like to be banking on some banks vacating the corporate banking space? At least, to open up the possibilities of growth, even in a market which is not very encouraging. You can have a strategy to grow the corporate book, even if the overall growth rate is not too big. But what about the pricing power and underwriting standards, both segments where public sector banks (PSBs) are supposed to be a little weak? Pricing power doesn't mean that you are pricing more than what others are getting simply by taking all the risk. If a loan has to be underwritten in a sustainable manner, it must be priced right. Where the pricing becomes too hot, which always happens, then a mispricing of risk happens. We have seen the phase where banks may not have earned money from certain sectors, but they have lost a lot of money there. So, when we look at any business, we need to be more calculated and nuanced and take a customer or business-house based approach. We are again at a point where scale is coming back and there is consolidation happening. I agree with you that the kind of emphasis that PSBs have placed on risk management as a discipline has been relatively weak. The kind of sophistication and quality of resources that banks need to be able to do, we may not have done so in the past as PSBs. That's something which needs to be strengthened.

How important is pool purchases for the bank? Before the Learned Sole Arbitrator Mr. Sarmit Mukherjee Re-Assignment Finance SREI Equipment Finance Limited (formerly known as Srei Equipment Finance Pvt.
